Sail on Washington

STUDDS ENCOURAGED BY RESULTS

WASHINGTON, D.C., JUNE 12 -- Rep. Gerry E. Studds, D-Mass., today released the following statement concerning the Save the American Fisheries Committee's Sail on Washington by the New Bedford, Mass., dragger SHARON AND NOREEN:

"I have nothing but the highest praise for the men and women who organized and made possible the week-long Save the American Fisheries Sail on Washington in support of the Studds-Magnuson Interim 200-Mile Fish Conservation Zone Bill and their two day visit to the Nation's Capital.

"The voyage was successful in focusing national attention on the desperate need to enact a 200-mile fishing jurisdiction off our coastline while we still have fish and a domestic fishing industry left to protect.

"I was tremendously impressed that the owners of the 103-foot dragger SHARON AND NOREEN, Captain Edward Longo of New Bedford and other fishermen, felt strongly enough about the need for this legislation that they gave up two weeks of fishing time and income to make the round trip from New England to the Capital.

"The Sail on Washington, which began in Kennebunkport, Maine, on June 4th, made stops in Rye Harbor, New Hampshire, before arriving in Washington on June 10th.

"I joined the SHARON AND NOREEN and her crew in Quantico for the last three hours of the trip and it was a very impressive sight to see this authentic fishing vessel, decked with the flags of the various states she had visited and festooned with captured illegal foreign fishing nets, motor into the Capital Yacht Club. Senators Kennedy of Massachusetts and John Pastore of Rhode Island and other officials were waiting at the dock to welcome Captain Longo and the ship.

"On Tuesday, June 11th, the House Subcommittee on Fisheries and Wildlife Conservation and the Environment, of which I am a member, held an open hearing to give the American Fisheries Chairman Richard Silva, a State Representative from Gloucester, Mass., and others a chance to present to the Congress their case for increased fishing protection.

"Captain Longo, skipper of the SHARON AND NOREEN for the Sail on Washington, brought a pile of fish nets to prove his case that the massive foreign fishing fleets, primarily from the Soviet Bloc Countries, are using nets with such a small mesh size that they have been banned by international agreement. The problem, as Captain Longo pointed out, is that our domestic fishermen are abiding by this ruling but foreign fishermen are using nets with such a small, closeley woven mesh that literally no fish escape to replenish the species.

"Other graphic testimony was provided by Walter Curtis, the owner of the WESTERN WAVE out of Gloucester, Mass., who also brought the replica of a haddock skeleton to present to the Subcommittee because he said it represented 'all that is going to be left of our fish and our fishing industry if 200-mile legislation is not passed immediately'.

"Other witnesses included State Rep. Elmont Tyndale of Kennebunkport, Maine, Octavio Modesto, general manager of the Seafood Producers Association of New Bedford, Frank Grice, director of Maine Fisheries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Captain Antonio Pereira of Boatowners United of New Bedford, Captain Joseph Cardoze of the New Bedford Fishermen's Union, Captains Robert Brieze and Rudolph Matland of the New Bedford Seafood Producers Association, Harvey Michelson of the New Bedford Seafood Dealers

"The reception Tuesday night at the Capital Yacht Club was also a success with numerous Senators and Congressmen mixing and talking with the fishermen.

"The trip did draw attention to what a growing majority of us in Congress feel is a desperate need for passage of 200-mile legislation this year. A Congressman from Kentucky came up to me at a Wednesday morning meeting and asked to have his name added to the 152 other co-sponsors of the Studds-Magnuson bill in the House. This unsolicited support for the bill is growing and shows that even inland states that have no fishing industry of their own, recognize the need to preserve and protect our domestic fishing industry.

"Senator Magnuson has indicated to me he plans to move Studds-Magnuson out of his Senate Commerce Committee to the Senate floor for a vote this summer. Passage of the bill by the Senate will add to the mounting pressure on the House to act on the legislation.

"I am hoping that after the International Law of the Sea Conference gets underway in Caracas, Venezuela, June 20th some of the major opponents of the bill will realize that we cannot afford to wait until the 150 invited nations reach agreement on their own individual fisheries jurisdiction. Hopefully, we can move the Studds-Magnuson bill out of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee to the House floor for final passage. A majority of the full committee are now co-sponsors of the bill and there are strong indications we have the necessary votes to win approval for the bill before the full House.

"The Studds-Magnuson bill provides that once the Law of the Sea Conference achieves agreement on fisheries jurisdiction the bill would be superceded by the new international agreement.

"But the entire question of saving our fish and our domestic fishing industry will have become academic if we do not act in the very near future to begin to save the dwindling fish stocks that remain in our offshore waters."

MACLEAN SAYS 195 ON SCHEDULE

The Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen has sent sincere thanks to Rep. William MacLean, Jr. for his assistance in expediting the completion of I-195. They thanked him for the time and effort expended. The Selectmen said that Mattapoisett people had been most concerned that the new road would not be open to handle the heavy volume of traffic this summer. That concern was justified as the recent tragic accident on Route 6 killed at least one person and critically injured several others.

On June 10, Rep. MacLean advised the Board of Selectmen that I-195 is on schedule for the completion date, June 28th. This, he wrote, would release Mattapoisett from any major traffic problem over the July 4th holiday week.

plymouth home solves THE NOW ACCOUNT puzzle

Everybody's offering NOW accounts, including Plymouth-Home National Bank. What's the difference? None really. NOW accounts by themselves don't vary much from bank to bank.

Here at Plymouth-Home we've introduced NOW accounts, but we've added a few extras . . . we put together a package of banking services and call it NOW • PAK. By itself, a NOW account is useful mainly as a checking account for those who write relatively few checks, live on a limited income, or make frequent savings withdrawals. NOW • PAK is a whole new direction in NOW account services, designed to make your banking easier, less confusing and more convenient to you. It includes:

• 5% DAILY INTEREST • MONTHLY STATEMENTS •

BOARD OF LIBRARY TRUSTEES RESTORES TOWN MEETING PAY REDUCTIONS FOR THE LIBRARIAN BY CUTTING HOURS

The following is a letter sent to Mr. James Greene, chairman Personnel Board, Mattapoisett, from the Board of Trustees of the Mattapoisett Public Library:

It has been over a month since Town Meeting and after repeated phone conversations with Donald Correia we have yet to nail down a joint meeting date to discuss the hourly rate for the Librarian and her staff.

You must be aware of the strain that has been put on the Trustees and the staff, particularly after having the budget slashed to the bone at a time when the Librarian will be asked to devote additional time in the planning and execution of building alterations already in progress.

Our concern prompted us to ask the Town Counsel for a legal opinion and we have received the following which we quote in part: "3. It is my opinion that the legal effect of the town meeting votes in failing to establish a salary rate and appropriating a fixed amount for salary under schedule E of the warrant left the determination of the pay rate to the Board of Library Trustees. You may establish such rate of pay as your board so votes."

After deliberation by the Board we have unanimously agreed to adopt the hourly rates originally recommended by the Personnel Board which are as follows:

In adopting the above rates we want to establish a minimum standard for the Librarian, but it will be necessary, at least temporarily, to reduce the present library hours from 22 hours per week to 15 hours per week in order to stay within the reduced budget set at Town Meeting.

This also automatically disqualifies the Librarian and two clerks (A) for fringe benefits and step increases under the present Personnel By-Laws.

The Librarian and two clerks have accepted this penalty for a period of six months beginning July 1, 1974. We regret this reduction in hours especially when you consider that our original

PUBLIC INTEREST vs. LEGAL LOOPHOLE
Editorial, D.C.J.

The letter above posted quietly on the bulletin board of the Mattapoisett Town Hall is self explanatory to all who have observed the maneuverings of the Board of Library Trustees over the past months. This is the latest broadside fired from the Board of Agnes Berg, Dr. M. C. Rosenfield and Richard Waterhouse upon the intent of the public. The issue was clear at the Annual Town Meeting. The Town Meeting vote passed on the librarian's pay should stand as a binding instruction to this Board as to the will and intent of the taxpayer. The motions on the floor of the Annual Town

The lower column of figures is the voted figures for the library operation.

State grant regulations allow a minimum of 15 hours for a town of under 5,000 population. Mattapoisett's last census puts the town population at 4,965 although the actual population is over 5,000. State grant regulations require 25 hours of operation for a population of between 5,000 and 10,000. Population figures are based on the last census. The fact that this trio has seized upon a legal technicality to avoid compliance is shocking. This is contempt for representative government. This is a precedent, that if allowed to stand unchallenged will lead to chaos in town government. This precedent will allow an elected official to go the Town Meeting for a pay raise and, if refused, to cut the hours he works so as to give himself the raise by the expedient of putting in fewer hours. The Library Board of Trustees goes on record here as willing to inconvenience the public in the busiest season of the year starting July 1st. They will reduce the library hours from 22 to 15 and the public be damned. They will thus restore the pay scale rejected by the citizens of the town and at the same time punish these same people for having the audacity to challenge the library budget at the Annual Town Meeting.

In the past nine months a highly competent librarian, Mrs. Pat Putman, has been led to relinquish her job by a very mysterious "personality clash". This same "personality clash" led to the loss of the entire library staff who quit. The Library Board refused to meet the public to discuss the mystery "personality". The Library Board has flatly refused to discuss the "personality clash" on any occasion. We haven't had many mysteries in town government. We seldom have public personalities so horrid that they can't stand the exposure to public sensibilities. For a long period of time, Mrs. Putman's personality was on display to the public as she served as librarian. As far as we have been able to determine the library users found her personality most pleasing. It leads one to wonder. What lurks in the character of what individual or individuals that is so malevolent that it can't bear public disclosure.

We seem to have a recent history at the library of expenditure done without the advice or consent of the townspeople. An architect was hired to prepare plans for expansion completely without foreknowledge or consent of the town meeting. It was legal. There wasn't that much planning money involved. But, was it an affront to that public? Other departments seek approval before embarking on plans that lead to renovations in the $100,000 range. A 1973 wiring job was done in the basement, again without knowledge or consent of the townspeople. It was legal. It was under $600. However, the Board must have been aware that if their renovation plans had been accepted, that sum would have been wasted as the new construction would have made it necessary to rip out and rewire the same area. Again, one wonders if the town might have been consulted before this job was done. State funds were accepted by this Board for the first time in 1973. It was a comparatively small sum in the neighborhood of $1,600. However, State sums always come with State requirements. Those requirements are going to be expensive in the extreme if present indications of the library plans and budget are a forecast. Other public officials probably would have presented the issue to the town meeting. They might have explained that the $1,600. was available but to obtain it the town must meet State requirements. You must have more volumes available. To house them you must expand the facilities. You must have an academically qualified librarian. To obtain one you must greatly increase the pay. The library must be open x number of hours and to increase the hours you must increase the budget. One wonders what the decision might have been if the public at the town meeting had been granted the courtesy and privilege of weighing yearly the $1,600. gained in State funds against the massive expense involved in obtaining it.

Representative government is very inconvenient. It tends to cramp the individual style of the elected official who is conscientious enough to follow the will of the electorate. The present Board of Library Trustees, on the other hand, seems to feel no such restriction on style or upon action. For this reason, in April, a petition was circulated in Mattapoisett and signed by 344 voters requesting that the present Board of Library Trustees resign. The petition was ignored. It may be that the time has come to resubmit that petition in such a way that it can't be ignored. However, the main issue now before the town is to correct the technicality in the annual town meeting motion, if need be, that allowed the Board to circumvent a town meeting intent governing the salary of the librarian and to reject the will and intent of the voters as of no con-

It is of even greater priority that the Mattapoisett library hours be retained at the present level of 22 hours per week. This is a level which the Library Board of Trustees described at the Building Plan meeting as presently inadequate to take care of the present population. The letter preceding this editorial now dictates that a 15 hour schedule be instituted to take care of the increased population of the summer season and from the same source.

In immediate action, I formally request of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen that they reconsider the allocation of $5,794.00 in Federal Revenue Sharing Funds for the entitlement period of July 1, 1974 through June 30, 1975. This money is presently earmarked for the use of the Library Board of Trustees. I request that this $5,794.00 be redirected to another department of town government which is responsive to the will and intent of the citizens of Mattapoisett as expressed by majority vote at town meeting.

A Thank You

TO THE MATTAPOISETT ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS BAND PARENTS

Both elementary schools in Mattapoisett have just completed a most successful year of instrumental music. The activities and functions of the various performing groups were numerous and very well received both in our own community and surrounding schools.

Although there is but one music supervisor, a program of this type could not have been possible without the help of many others who are behind the scenes.

The band parents are deserving of a pat on the back for tremendous cooperation, interest and for putting up with us at times when I'm sure it was most inconvenient. Bringing forgotten instruments to school and transporting students to rehearsals can be a bit taxing, but the replies to hurried phone calls were always pleasant and reassuring.

Our parent teachers club was terrific in coming to our financial aid and making possible our spring tour of other schools.

Culminating this year's events was the Arts

M.Y.C. Sailing Lessons

The Mattapoisett Yacht Club is again operating a sailing training program. Similar to the last few years, courses of instruction exist for the beginners starting at age 9. Beetle Cats primarily will be used for the less experienced skippers. Areas of instruction include water and boating safety, sailboat handling, and the variety of skills needed to sail adequately, as well as an advanced sailing section. A new 420 has been added to be used by the advanced sailing group. A 420 is a small racing type sloop. The class perhaps is one of the largest in the world. 420's come equipped with a jib, spinnaker and trapeze. These boats will do much to aid sailors in learning some of the finer points of sailing

Junior Grange

Mattapoisett Junior Grange held its meeting last Thursday night with the worthy master Christine Hubbard presiding. The next meeting will be on Friday, June 21st, at 6 P.M.

Rhonda Magill was given instructions of the Junior Degree by Master Hubbard and was welcomed by all.

The report of a successful Yard Sale was given. The Juniors voted to give two separate donations to a most worthy cause.

During the lecturer's program, a card of a quiz and fun stunts were enjoyed. A letter was read from Deputy Alma Rolla announcing the main floor of the New England Grange Building at the Eastern States Exposition will be given over to Junior exhibits that will be held September 13-22. The Mattapoisett Juniors are planning on getting some of the interesting projects made up to exhibit. Workshops will start soon for this reason. Any girl or boy who would like to join the Junior Grange just contact Mrs. LeBaron for an application. The age is 5-14 years.

HIT THE SPOT

Here are some general rules for effective stain removal:

—Treat stains on washable fabrics as soon as possible because fresh stains generally come out more easily.

—Always test any stain remover (such as ammonia or vinegar) on a sample of the fabric or on a hidden part of the garment before using. For testing, apply the amount recommended on the package and let stand for two or three minutes, then rinse. If the color is affected, don't use the product.

—When treating a spot, place it face down on paper towels and apply stain remover to the underside of the stain so that it will be forced off the surface and not through the fabric. And replace towels frequently to prevent stain transfer.

—When using bleach, do not try to treat just one spot on a colored garment — bleach the entire garment to prevent uneven color removal. Even though the color may be lightened, the color change will be uniform.

wreaked havoc with picnic equipment at the park. The picnic tables were piled, smashed and thrown about, trash cans overturned and a general shambles made of the park. At first glance the spectator's thought was "What animals did that?" Then, shamefully, the mental apology to the animal kingdom. There is no animal on the face of the earth that despoils nature and destroys wantonly except one - the human. Mattapoisett police have rounded up the group of local juveniles who did this horror to the park.

Pageant Seminar

MISS MASS. SCHOLARSHIP PAGEANT

At a recent seminar held for the contesttants of the Miss Massachusetts Scholarship Pageant 18 of the 19 young women attended and met for the first time. These young ladies represent the Bay State's finest competitors and one of whom could become Miss America in September when she competes for the title in Atlantic City.

President Barry N. Behn of Foxboro greeted the group which included business managers and other pageant officials. Mr. Behn gave a brief outline of happenings in the State which will enable these 19 contestants to vie for the title now worn by Rena Diane Walmsley of North Attleboro. Miss Walmsley presented herself to the young women with thoughts pertaining to Pageant Week and the actual competition. Her most important statement to these competitors was "just be yourself and try to really enjoy what is happening around you". Miss Massachusetts is presently a Delta Airline hostess stationed in Boston and will be on hand during the pageant activities to assist anyone. The seminar was conducted in two sections with half the girls meeting with Producer Victor Genest. He outlined the format of the show which includes two preliminary competitions on Thursday and Friday evenings, June 27 and 28. Each contestant then performed her talent entry verifying the time stipulation for all Miss America contenders.

Hostess Chairman Diana Behn and Pageant Week Chairman Joseph Sproul discussed in detail many important items such as rehearsal schedules; banquets, parade, pageant ball, wardrobe requirements along with a set of rules and regulations for all contestants to follow and adhere to. It wasn't all work for the contestants as this year auditions were held for the female singer who will join the cast. Several former contestants have auditioned for this role and selections will be made following a production meeting.

The Miss Massachusetts Scholarship Pageant Inc. has been diligently at work for the past 12 months and it will be climaxed during the week of June 25-29 in the Attleboro area once again.

The contestants will be housed in the La Salette Retreat House and will be transported throughout the week through the courtesy of the MacDonald's Big-Mac Bus.

Miss Carol Ann Hanley, Miss Wareham,

WE OFFER RK SHAMPOO AND RK RECONDITIONING TREATMENT AS PART OF OUR SHOP SERVICE

RK

RK Shampoo's naturally-organic, acid-balanced protein formula leaves your hair feeling stronger and visibly healthier after the first application. The special protein properties in RK Shampoo absorb into the hair, will not leave residual shampoo build up. In fact, RK Shampoo is so good for the hair the second sudsing can actually be left in for extra conditioning action.

The cure for tired, damaged, frizzy, sun-bleached over-dry hair is RK Protein Reconditioner. This naturally-organic, acid-balanced protein reconditioner is hydrolyzed to the correct molecular size so as to actually rebuild damaged hair fibers. The protein ingredients in the RK Protein Reconditioner become part of the hair structure itself; starved, undernourished hair receives this "protein food" and comes to life again.

YMCA NEWS

The New Bedford YMCA will be starting a summer Tiny Tots swimming program on Wednesday, June 26th. Classes will run every Wednesday morning for a period of eight weeks. The program is open to Y members and non-members. The swimming classes will run for twenty minutes with five to seven children in each class. There will be 13 different swim classes offered, with the age span running from 2 months to 18 months, 18 months to 3 years, 3 years to 4 1/2 years and 4 1/2 years to 5 1/2 years of age. This is a great opportunity to get your child oriented to the water, and possibly to teach him how to swim. Registrations are now being taken at the YMCA's front desk.
